

SOCIETY

Honolulu will probably boast of a Country Club within the next six months, which will prove a social and athletic boon to lovers of outdoor sports. It is quite possible that the Rooke property in Nuuanu Valley, an estate of large acreage with natural facilities for conversion into a rendezvous for what are ordinarily termed "society games," and where golf, cricket, tennis, bowling, swimming and shooting may be enjoyed, will be leased. It looks now as though the membership would be quite large and that the list of members will include many of the most prominent people here. Business men who do not go in personally for any of the sports named, are favorable to the project to the extent of taking shares. The country club should be to Honolulu what Burlingame is to San Francisco. There, milady may serve tea to her friends, and there can be tennis and golf luncheons. With a fine clubhouse and pretty sylvan surroundings the Country Club should in time become one of the most popular rendezvous in the city. The Manoa Golf Club and the Hawaiian Gun Club have signified a desire to merge into the Country Club. Governor Carter is president of the Manoa Golf Club, and is looked upon as a probable president of the Country Club.

Mr. Walter F. Dillingham returned from San Francisco on the Siberia.

The "American princess," Miss Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the President, will be received with social honors all along the line of travel from Washington to Manila, and of course she will pass through Honolulu en route. Society folk in all cities are taking a great interest in her coming and receptions and other forms of entertainment are being planned. While here she will no doubt be received with social honors by Mrs. George R. Carter, wife of the Governor. In Oakland the social hostess of Miss Roosevelt's party will be Mrs. Victor Metcalf, wife of the secretary of commerce and labor. Secretary Metcalf, by the way, is a relative by marriage of Mrs. Emma Nakulua of Honolulu. The rivalry for the coveted honor of entertaining Miss Roosevelt has finally fallen to Mrs. Metcalf. Miss Roosevelt is to be chaperoned officially by Mrs. Dubois, wife of Senator Dubois of Idaho. There are several prominent society belles and matrons of Washington in the party, close friends of Miss Roosevelt. Among them are Miss Boardman, Miss MacMillan and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gay of Lanai are in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brown entertained at dinner at the Royal Hawaiian, Friday evening.

The wedding is private, only relatives and immediate friends to be present. A reception will follow at 9 o'clock, to which several hundred friends have been invited. The reception will be one of the largest given here in many seasons, and, owing to the popularity of the prospective bride and groom, will be one long to be remembered. Princess Kawanakoa will be the matron of honor. Mr. C. Cunha will be the best man. Miss Alice Macfarlane, Miss Irene Dickson, Miss Ada Rhodes and Miss Clara Cummings will be the bridesmaids.

Tennis has just as much of a hold upon society folk in Honolulu now as it has for years past. There is a breezy enthusiasm among tennis devotees and the many tournaments held during the year are always sure to bring out a crowd of interested spectators. The matches played during the past couple of weeks on the courts of the Pacific Tennis Club and the Beretania Club have been interesting and some excellent playing has been witnessed. Among the ladies, Mrs. Arthur M. Brown, Mrs. S. G. Wilder, Mrs. Ivers, Mrs. Elston, Miss Bertha Young have been quite prominent and are proficient enough in the wielding of the racket to make the manly sex look sharp to their honors.

The exhibition of Mrs. May Mott-Smith Bird's designs in jewelry, drew a large crowd of people to the Kilo-hana Art League rooms on Wednesday evening. The display is unique. The designs are extremely odd and the dull finish of the gold gives each piece a look of extreme antiquity, the design and appearance being a rare combination. Mrs. Hawes and Miss Irmgard Schaefer were in charge on the opening evening and Mrs. Belle Jones, Mrs. C. B. Cooper, and Mrs. Waterhouse took charge on other evenings during the week.

Mr. W. G. Irwin entertained at dinner on Friday for Judge and Mrs. Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. Swanzy, Miss Nellie White, Miss Kaufmann, Major Potter and Mr. R. E. Wright.

The exhibition of pictures at the Kilo-hana Art League rooms is very creditable this year and is drawing many art lovers to view the canvases. The arrival of Mr. D. Howard Hitchcock, who has spent the past two years in New York, is sure to add interest to the exhibition, as Mr. Hitchcock has been one of the mainstays of the league for many years.
